

MASS MEETING HEARS GREAT NEED FOR
VOTING SEWER BONDS BY BIG MAJORITYHENRY FORD TO SUPPORT
COOLIDGE

Asserts 90 Per Cent of People
Feel Perfectly Safe
With President

DETROIT, Dec. 19.—Henry Ford came out flat for President Coolidge in a statement issued today. He declared that 90 per cent of the people feel perfectly safe with Coolidge and that "I would never for a moment think of running against Calvin Coolidge for president on any ticket whatever."

"I believe it is the wise and natural thing for the people to agree on the nomination of President Coolidge," said Ford.

"I am satisfied that 90 per cent of the people feel perfectly safe with him. And, if this is the feeling in the country, why change?"

Tries to Do Right
"Mr. Coolidge has shown in these months of service a great many qualities which should please his countrymen. I think they all feel that Mr. Coolidge means to do everything right. When a man means to do right, so far as I have observed, it is usually quite easy for him to find the way to do right."

"Some people seemed to be disturbed over the conditions which business will face during the presidential election year. There is no reason why business should be disturbed by it, if the people by common consent agree that they will hold to a good man while they have him. Public sentiment can be so formed long before the election that there need be no doubt about the election."

To Nominate Anyway
In the face of Ford's announcement, the third party men, however, asserted they would hold their national convention next month and nominate Ford, despite his own wishes.

"Henry Ford can never influence the farmers of the west to vote for Coolidge," Roy M. Harrop of Omaha, president of the National Ford club, declared. "We will hold our convention and nominate him, and he will have an opportunity then to tell the American people outright whether or not he will accept their call to service."

"Coolidge 'broke his shovel' with the farmers when he told them in his annual message they would have to work out their own salvation."

Prepare For Sanity
Test on Slayer Kels

SACRAMENTO, Dec. 19.—Indicating that the analysis will be made within the next two days, preparations were started early today for holding the Alex Kels spinal fluid test.

Following his action last night in announcing that he would meet the demand of the state board of prison directors and conduct the test, Warden Smith notified Dr. Stanley, San Quentin physician, who will supervise the test, to proceed at once with his plans for the examination.

Whether the condemned "haystack slayer" will be examined for insanity is dependent on whether the spinal fluid shows taint.

Showers Send Total
Rainfall Up to 1.06

Showers of rain fell over Glendale last night and, augmented by a heavy fall early this morning, boosted the seasonal record up to 1.06 inches. According to H. E. Bartlett, weather man of 333 West Broadway, Glendale received .38 of an inch last night and this morning.

This year's record, to date, of 1.06 inches falls noticeably short of last year's record at this time, which was 5.41 inches.

BELIEVES IN HUSBAND
LOS ANGELES, Dec. 19.—Telegraphing Seattle authorities to delay the inquest until she arrives, Mrs. Winifred Child, wife of Eugene Child, whose dead body was reported found with that of Clara Lein, beautiful young dancer, in a gas filled room in Seattle on Monday, today was enroute to Seattle with unshaken faith in her husband's integrity.

King George Of
Greece Prepares
To Quit Country

ATHENS, Dec. 19.—King George II of Greece, who was ordered to leave the country by his government, prepared today to depart on the Greek ship Daphne for Roumania at 6 o'clock this evening. It was expected a British warship would accompany the Daphne.

Admiral Cournotis is assuming the regency of Greece. The Republicans are jubilant over the turn of events. "The Republican regime begins today," declared M. Papanastasiou, Republican leader.

King George did not abdicate and said he retained all rights to the throne.

SEND DETAILS OF

Author's Wife Hanged Herself
in Stateroom of Ship
Report Reveals

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 19.—First details of the manner in which Mrs. Adelaide Manola Hughes, wife of Rupert Hughes, noted author and film director, committed suicide early last Friday while enroute to Haiphong, Indo-China, were received here today by Major Hughes in a cablegram from J. P. Kirby, Standard Oil company representative at Haiphong.

According to Kirby's brief message, Mrs. Hughes hanged herself in her state room shortly after midnight on the morning of December 14, while mentally deranged from a severe ear ache. An unsent cablegram was found in her room addressed to Major Hughes, Kirby's message said, in which she mentioned the trouble with her ear, but she made no intimation that she intended suicide.

Mrs. Hughes' body was discovered by the ship's stewardess. Kirby's message also set forth the details through which Mrs. Hughes' body may be returned from the French Indo-China city, and Major Hughes immediately set about the cutting of the necessary official "red tape" to bring his wife's body to this country for burial in Westchester county, New York.

Chinese Murdered In Tokio Quake, Claim

TOKIO, Dec. 19.—C. T. Wang, sent from China to investigate the alleged killing of Chinese during the earthquake disaster period, was quoted today as declaring there was "abundant" circumstantial proof that hundreds of Chinese were killed in cold blood in the excitement following the earthquake. Wang added that he will request the Chinese government at Peking to make the strongest demands upon the Japanese government for prosecution of the alleged murderers.

REBEL TROOPS IN RETREAT, IS REPORT

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 19.—Rebel troops under General Martinez, who were defeated by the federals at San Marcos, retreated all night long towards Vera Cruz, pursued by government forces, according to advices received from Mexico City. The casualties were not given, but dispatches said that the fighting was severe and that many rebels deserted to the federals.

'CHESTER CONCESSIONS' CANCELLED

LONDON, Dec. 19.—The Turkish government at Angora has formally cancelled the "Chester concessions," according to a dispatch from Constantinople this afternoon. The so-called "Chester concessions" were granted to the Ottoman-American Development company in which General George W. Goethals, builder of the Panama canal, was said to be interested. They called for the construction of railways, rebuilding of Angora and reconstruction on the Black sea coast.

COUNTESS CARNARVON IS MARRIED

LONDON, Dec. 19.—Countess Carnarvon and Colonel Dennis Town were married here today. She is the widow of the Earl of Carnarvon who discovered Tut-Ankh-Amen's tomb in Egypt.

REMOVAL OF
DEMANDED

Re-Issuance of City License
To Be Bitterly Fought
By Association

With the avowed purpose of opposing the continued operation of Community Auto Camp, Riverdale Drive and San Fernando road, and taking a firm stand against the re-issuance by the City Council of another permit for this camp, either at its present location or any other place that would similarly affect that neighborhood, the West Glendale Protective association was formed last night at a meeting of citizens in the office of L. H. Wilson, San Fernando road and West Park avenue.

The organization was launched with a full determination to accomplish its purpose, with a full set of officers elected and a working fund raised to "carry the fight to the last ditch, if necessary." A resolution demanding of the City Council that the camp be permanently removed from the city was adopted by the new body.

Officers of the association are as follows: Robert Johnson, president; F. M. Sunda, secretary, and M. W. Lee, treasurer.

Three other members were selected to act with the officers as a committee to carry out the work of the organization, as follows: James F. Winard, J. B. Finch and A. S. Jenkins.

The following members were appointed by President Johnson to draft the resolution adopted by the association: H. D. Thaxter, Charles E. Lee and E. B. Adams. The formation of this association, composed wholly of citizens residing in the vicinity of the auto camp, which the City Council some weeks ago ordered closed, is the first organized effort to remove what President Johnson declared last night to be "the worst thing in the history of Glendale, a sore spot, an eye-sore to the whole community."

Fight in Prospect

That a bitter fight is in prospect, when the matter of issuing another permit for the operation of the auto camp comes up, is manifest by the fact that arrangements for legal representation of the association already has been made. Dwight W. Stephenson has been retained by Mr. Johnson for the association.

Following adoption of the resolution last night, it was passed among the members present, numbering twenty-five, for attaching their signatures. It is to be further circulated before presentation to the City Council, possibly at its regular meeting Thursday morning. It is expected, according to Mr. Johnson, that the question of granting another permit for the camp will be brought up at this meeting.

"Unless absolute pressure, and that from an organized group determined to see this to a finish, is brought to bear," said Mr. Johnson, "the council will back down on their decision to close the camp. They changed their minds no less than six times at one meeting, and, with pressure from the camp people, the council would easily swing to their side again."

Attorney Retained

"Already an attorney has been retained by the camp people, who have just acquired the lease from the association."

FEDERALS REGAIN
CITY OF PUEBLA

Strategic Point Once More
In Control of Regular Forces, Is Report

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19.—The city of Puebla has been recaptured by federal troops, according to official information received at the capitol from the Mexican embassy here.

Puebla, a railroad center, is considered one of the most strategic points in the battle area.

Rebels Gain Victory

VERA CRUZ, Dec. 19.—Revolutionary troops operating in the mountains in the Puebla sector have gained a great victory over the federals, according to an announcement made today by Huertista headquarters. The federals were forced to retreat, leaving 130 dead and wounded upon the field.

Fighting continues in the region of San Marcos, at the junction of the Inter-Oceanic and Mexican railways.

Runs Amuck With Axe,
Injures Two Women

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 19.—Two women were today in the receiving hospital suffering with severe wounds inflicted with an axe and James Postorino, who is said to have run amuck and attacked his wife and mother-in-law and threatened several of the neighborhood children with the deadly weapon, is at the general hospital under observation for his sanity.

The women are Mrs. Lizzie Postorino and her mother, Mrs. Mary Spinnelli. They were struck repeatedly with the axe as they ran to shield children from asserted threatened attacks by Postorino.

LABOR LEADER DEAD

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 19.—George A. Tracy, 63, for many years a prominent labor leader and a native of Monmouth, Ill., died here today, following a stroke of paralysis. Tracy was for many years president of the typographical union in San Francisco and served many years in the government printing office in Washington establishing the government printing office in the Philippines.

Senate Deadlock
Continues; Action
After New Year

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19.—A decision by the Senate on the election of a chairman for the powerful interstate commerce committee was postponed this afternoon until the first session in the New Year after an hour's heated debate.

This action was taken after two futile ballots in which a band of Progressive insurgents blocked the election of either regular Republican or Democratic nominees.

FARMERS REDUCE
ACRES IN WHEAT

Plant Less Than Last Year
Announces Department
Of Agriculture

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19.—American farmers have sown 12.6 per cent less winter wheat this fall than they did last year, the department of agriculture announced this afternoon on the basis of reports of agents throughout the country.

The total area sown this fall is 40,191,000 acres, compared with 45,950,000 acres in the fall of 1922.

The condition of wheat crop on December 1 was 88, compared with 79.5 on December 1, 1922, and a ten year average of 86.5. The area of rye sown this fall is 4,377,000 acres, which is 15.1 per cent less than the revised estimated area sown in the fall of 1922, viz 5,175,000 acres.

VERDICT NOT REACHED

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 19.—Indications of a deadlock jury were noticeable today as the four women and eight men who hold in their hands the fate of Grace Baratti, accused of the murder of her husband, resumed their deliberations. The jury was reported to have taken six futile ballots last night, before retiring for the night. The state demanded a first degree verdict.

CRISIS IN CRYER
ILLNESS IS PAST

Condition of L. A. Executive Better As Congestion in Lung Clears Up

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 19.—With his temperature much reduced and his lungs, which had been affected by a slight congestion, clearing up, the condition of Mayor George E. Cryer was declared today to be greatly improved. The mayor has been confined to his home for several days with an attack of intestinal influenza which developed into a slight case of pneumonia in one lung.

"The mayor is much better," his physician said today. "His right lung is clearing and the pain he suffered has practically disappeared."

The Church Federation called upon all Los Angeles churches to have prayers said for the recovery of the mayor and last night many of the churches held prayer services.

Jap Cabinet Agrees
To Cut Road Budget

TOKIO, Dec. 19.—There were indications this afternoon after the cabinet had been in session six hours that the government would yield to the demands of the Seiyukai party that 130,000,000 yen be cut from the road reconstruction appropriation of the budget. The demand was regarded a direct challenge to the Yamamoto ministry, particularly Minister Goto and in some quarters either resignation of the cabinet or dissolution of parliament had been predicted.

However, because of the approaching marriage of the regent, it is particularly desired that any political upheaval be avoided and this was expected to influence the decision of the cabinet materially.

REV. HOWE DEAD

LONDON, Dec. 19.—Rev. John Henry Howett, former pastor of the Fifth Avenue Presbyterian church in New York City, died today. From 1921 he was minister at Westminster chapel, London. Dr. Howett was 59 years old and was the author of many religious books.

IMMEDIATE NECESSITY FOR OBTAINING SYSTEM

Speakers Submit Facts and Figures to Show
Glendale Will Receive Best Relief by Supporting Proposition at Polls

"Activity, cleanliness, life; Stagnation, filth, death. This is the choice voters will be asked to make at the polls on January 8,"—San Davis, Glendale City Councilman.

Before an audience that packed the Glendale Union High school auditorium very nearly to capacity, speakers last night presented an educational program on the necessity for voting "yes" on both propositions at the bond election of January 8, 1924, amid great enthusiasm and frequent applause.

The meeting was arranged and held under the auspices of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce, sewer committee, and presided over by W. E. Hewitt, new C. C. president.

Mayor Spencer Robinson led off with a history of Glendale's efforts to have a sanitary sewer system, from the days of the activated sludge and Vernon reducing plant ideas to the Lippencott analysis and the inception, prosecution and fruition of the present plan to connect with the great Los Angeles outfall system.

Long Time to Wait
It is true, Mayor Robinson admitted, that Los Angeles would ultimately build a sewer to care for the San Fernando valley tributaries, but this would not be within five years—and then Glendale could connect only by annexing.

Councilman Sam Davis next spoke, prefacing his remarks with the declaration that no assembly had ever gathered in Glendale on more solemn business. He then stated quite frankly that there were two ways, and only two ways, of getting a sewer:

First—By voting the bonds January 8.

Second—By annexing with Los Angeles.

Councilman Davis, with the simple eloquence of intense sincerity, then analyzed the contract article, explaining each point and showing its entire fairness.

When he came to the point of obtaining the necessary right-of-way, he stated that already all but 1,150 feet has been obtained without the cost of one penny, and that the city engineering department has estimated the balance will not cost over $10,000. He was greeted at this point with loud applause.

Councilman Davis then set out:

President Peter Hanson Makes Eloquent Plea In Behalf of Bond Issue

The speech made last night by President Peter Hanson of the Glendale Realty board, before the mass meeting, held in the Glendale Union High school under auspices of the Chamber of Commerce sewer committee, will long be remembered by the hundreds who heard it as one of the most ringing, eloquent pleas ever delivered within the boundaries of the city, a 100 per cent pro-Glendale speech, by one who, through every act of a long and successful practice here of his profession of realtor, has proved that the best interests of Glendale have ever been closest to his heart.

So sincere was the speech, so ardent in its appeal to Glendadians to vote the bonds on January 8 and continue the tide of prosperity now carrying the city on the crest of its ever-increasing population, and at the same time so convincing and compelling in its arguments, that The Glendale Evening News prints below, for the benefit of the city at large, Mr. Hanson's speech in full:

"At a time like this, when men become perhaps more excited than in a calmer moment, it is necessary to forget the heat of argument and consider the larger problems of the issue before us.

Splitting Pennies
"We are all of one mind that Glendale needs an adequate sewer system, yet some of us may overlook the big issue in splitting pennies over trifles; some of us may find fault with a clause or two of the contract, when it is the contract as a whole that counts."

"If I were more interested in the welfare of some other city I would go there, for it would be an indication to me that I loved that city more than I love my own."

"I am in the real estate business. It is my livelihood. Anything that affects my bread and butter interests me vitally, and I am therefore frankly and openly interested in this forthcoming bond election. The per capita cost of building the proposed $1,600,000 sewer for the city of Glendale is approximately $35 per capita, or $100 for a family of three.

Realty to Increase
"Now the average family of three owns a lot and I therefore venture as a safe statement that if this bond election carries, every lot in Glendale, even to the remotest district, will increase an average of $300 in value, which leaves a net profit of $200 after deducting the cost of $100 per family for building the sewer."

"Forgetting for the moment all other considerations of health, expediency and policy, we must vote the bonds if we are to keep Glendale 'the fastest growing city in America,' of which we are intensely proud—for should this bond election fail, you have shut the doors of your city against capital. Sky-scrapers cannot rise on a foundation of cesspools. Homeseekers will not continue to come here in ever-increasing numbers, knowing that you have decided Glendale shall have no sewers."

"And we who are in the real estate business know that if the bonds should fail, our phones will be ringing the next morning as never before, telling us to sell, even though at a loss; and on the other hand we know that if the bonds carry, our phones will likewise be ringing as never before—and our orders will be to raise the price!"

Social Events

Birthday Party
Miss Hazel Campbell entertained with a delightful Christmas party celebrating the fifth birthday anniversary of her small nephew, Kemper Campbell, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Kemper Campbell, of 322 Roads End, on Monday, at her home, 1412 South Brand boulevard.

The little guests assembled only to find that Miss Campbell was absent, but a dear little old Mrs. Santa Claus was present, bearing a letter from Miss Campbell, which said that Miss Campbell had been able to secure the presence of Mrs. Santa Claus, only by going herself to assist Santa Claus in his Christmas preparations, as he was so busy.

Bettie Kline, one of the little guests, announced the program of readings and songs by the little guests, who were accompanied by their mothers.

In the dining room, which was bright with Christmas colors, there was a Christmas tree and after the program, Mrs. Santa Claus distributed gifts for each one. A beautiful birthday cake bore five candles. Cake, popcorn and candy were served the guests.

The guests helping Kemper Campbell celebrate his birthday, were Dumpy Ignatius, Meran Blossom, Marjory Kennedy, Rosalie Gates, Dean Campbell, Dean Kline, Bettie Kline, Herbert Howeth, and Jean Kline. The grown-ups present were Messdames Kline, Ignatius, Howarth and Hibben, Blossom, Kennedy and Miss Campbell were assisted by her mother, Mrs. Carrie Campbell.

Mother's Guests
The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Lewis, of San Francisco, will be glad to learn of their arrival here on Sunday, Mrs. Lewis before her marriage, was Miss Ruth Wilson, and has a host of friends here, having attended the local high school and been a resident of Glendale for a number of years. They will be glad to greet their many friends at the home of Mrs. Lewis, mother, Mrs. Bertha Wilson, of 5164 Delaware avenue, Eagle Rock, where they are staying.

Louis Wilson Lewis, the year and eight months old son of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis, was awarded three prizes at the recent San Francisco Industry Exposition for being a 100 per cent perfect baby. He was awarded a blue ribbon, a silver knife, fork and spoon, and a certificate for his many merits. Mrs. Wilson, his grandmother, can well be proud of her young grandson.

Birthday Affair
Mrs. S. A. Koontz of 462 East Chestnut street was hostess one evening recently at a party celebrating the birthday of her daughter, Emilie.

The birthday dinner table was decorated in pink with a huge birthday cake for the centerpiece. Later five-hundred was played and Miss Vera Slouthour and John Hayer won the prizes.

Guests were Misses Vera Slouthour, Lake, Eleanor Collins, Emilie Collins, Helen Hyler, William Hyler, John Hyler, William S. A. Koontz, Emma Williams, Mrs. Leonard Hoover, Mrs. Ed Hoover, Guy Rush, Charles Medsger, Edna Hoover, Clara Smith.

Section Speaker
Mrs. Umy Sears of Pasadena, editor and publisher of the California Southland, was the speaker yesterday morning at the meeting of the fine arts section of the Tuesday Afternoon club, of which Mrs. Roy Ballag is curator. Mrs. Sears gave an inspiring address on "Christmas Art" and the application of art in relation to the residences and interior decoration. Following the morning session, Mrs. Sears delivered a lecture on art at the club luncheon.

At this time Mrs. Ballag, curator, wishes all members of the section, a very Merry Christmas and a Happy and Prosperous New Year.

Dance Thursday
The young people of the Canadian club are to have charge of the dance to be given Thursday night in the K. P. hall on South Brand boulevard and Park avenue. Al Western is chairman of the dance committee.

Dancing will begin at 8 o'clock and the music will be furnished by Kelly's Shrine club orchestra. A Christmas party for the club children is to be held at the same place Monday night, December 24. This affair is to begin at 7 o'clock and there will be a tree, games and music.

Postpone Meeting
On account of the many activities of the pre-Christmas week, the regular meeting of the Columbus Avenue Parent-Teacher association, which would ordinarily be held Thursday afternoon, December 20, has been postponed, it was announced today by the president, Mrs. C. P. Tedford. Announcement of the next regular meeting will be made at a later date.

Philathea "Kids"
"Kid" costumes were the fashionable dress of the members of the Philathea class of the First Methodist church last evening when they were entertained at the home of Miss Agnes Brown, 830 East Harvard street. This affair which is an annual event of the class was very well attended, there being over thirty members present.

The holiday season's colors and a beautiful Christmas tree were artistically used in decoration. Gifts were placed on the tree by the members of the class for the needy family whose hearts will be made happy on Christmas morn.

During the evening's entertainment, clever cats were made by the guests from stockings which were to be presented to the Children's Hospital. Children's games and contests were played and altogether a jolly evening was enjoyed.

Late in the evening a dainty course of refreshments were served.

Club Hostesses
Misses Margaret and Olive Taylor of 549 Spencer place were hostesses last night at the members of the City Teachers' Choral club at the regular monthly social meeting. The hour of practice, with singing directed by Miss Elsa Brennaman, was followed by a social time.

Christmas presents brought by the guests were distributed by drawing numbers. Refreshments of cocoa, cake and mince "saucers" were served.

Those present were Mrs. Irene McReynolds, Misses Lucretia Potter, Mildred Hughey, Elsa Brennaman, Alice Lookabaugh, Lorene Fritch, Jennie Lacy, Daisy Kearney, Ethel Culbertson, Hazel Flynn, Gladys Sharpe, Ethel Ballinger, Ethel Land, Helen Reynolds, Evelyn Henderson, Joanna Heideman, Agnes Tupper, Olive, Margaret and Kathleen Taylor and their mother, Mrs. Frank T. Taylor. Mrs. Lacy was a guest of the club.

Initiate Four
Four candidates were initiated last night at the meeting of the Carnation Rebekah lodge in the Odd Fellows' hall on West Broadway. Those initiated were Mrs. Hamilton, Mrs. Selmsen, Charles Stanley and H. Stanley.

Announcement was made of the Christmas dance to be held Saturday night in the lodge hall, and the public installation January 1. The afternoon club is to meet on Friday and begin practice on a play to be given in February.

Mrs. Coghlin was chairman of the refreshment committee last night.

DEATHS—FUNERALS

MARY E. HATZ
The holiday time has been saddened for C. J. Hatz, well-known Glendale merchant of 132 South Brand boulevard, by the death of his mother, Mrs. Mary E. Hatz, Tuesday night, December 18, 1923, in Prairie du Sac, Wis. She had been ill but two or three days.

Besides her son, Mrs. Hatz leaves three daughters, all of whom reside in Wisconsin. Mr. Hatz will leave Glendale tomorrow morning for Prairie du Sac and the funeral and interment will not be held until his arrival.

MRS. CLARA E. BENNETT
Mrs. Clara E. Bennett, mother of E. J. Bennett of 1114 South Central avenue, died yesterday, Tuesday, December 18, 1923, at her home at 1174 West Eighth street, Los Angeles. Her death came after a protracted illness.

The deceased, who was 74 years of age at the time of her death, was born in Waverly, New York. She came to California twenty years ago. She is survived by her three sons, E. J. Bennett of Glendale; F. E. Bennett of Los Angeles; and L. E. Bennett of Hollywood.

Mrs. Bennett was a member of the first Methodist church of Los Angeles. Funeral services will be held at 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon, in the Fitch Undertaking parlors in Los Angeles. Private burial will follow.

FRANK EDWARD KENNEDY
Funeral services for Frank Edward Kennedy, who died at his home on Sunday, December 17, 1923, will be held at 1 o'clock Friday afternoon in the chapel of the Jewel City Undertaking company on North Brand boulevard and Wilson avenue.

Rev. R. J. Stead of Pomona, an old friend of the Kennedy family, will officiate. The Glendale Knights of Pythias will have charge of the burial in Grand View Memorial park.

MRS. MARY E. MARSHALL
Mrs. Mary E. Marshall, aged 72, passed away at her residence, 123 1/2 East Lomita avenue, Wednesday, December 19, 1923. In addition to her husband and two sons, she is survived by relatives in the east and a host of friends in this city.

Funeral arrangements have not been completed, but will be announced later by the L. G. Scovron company, in charge.

BIRTHS

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Builder, 425 West Colorado street, Tuesday, December 18, 1923, at the Glendale Sanitarium and Hospital.

Weather Aid to Holidays
Silent "Human Baggage"
More Building Is Needed
What Others Are Saying

By Gil A. Cowan

Mighty to'able weather we are having, an oldtimer might remark. Sure, it has been chilly and windy, but perhaps it has been snowing back east, like in New Mexico last week, and generally making the holiday season disagreeable.

People of Southern California have so many things for which to be happy that it seems Christmas should be an opportune time to express ourselves in mutual regard for others.

In other sections of the state many farmers are being forced to give up their lands. You will find beggars on the streets of larger centers in the north and east.

But here, where the sun shines most of the time and the people are prosperous, it seems like a dream. Of course, it rained hard this morning. But soon the sun was out, the atmosphere clear and everybody happy.

Several nights ago the writer had occasion to mail a letter on the Southern Pacific train at Fresno. In the forward chair car there was a lively lot of human baggage that made every person at the station thank his "lucky star" for the fullness of life enjoyed.

It was a whole carload of little mutes, unable to hear and unable to speak, except as they read lips and talked by signs. About 100 of them were coming from the state school at Berkeley to enjoy the holiday vacation at their homes in Southern California.

One could not help but ask Santa Claus to bring them their forgotten faculties—but it is a useless wish.

And perhaps they will enjoy life all the more by not hearing all or the troubles in this old world or ours.

Builders in Glendale should "straighten ahead" for the new year. Indeed, the tempo here must be maintained, as our musician friends would say.

More homes, more business blocks will be needed by more and more people, and Glendale will get nothing else but. In fact, the drift of the world is toward California, yet Californians are hardly awake to the possibilities.

Aggressive cities are going to reap the reward of their enterprise at this hour. So let's go, Glendale! Let's go!

First of all, put over the sewer bond election was a 100 per cent unanimous vote.

Then get a hotel worthy of the name—three.

And build, build, build!

The other evening the writer was discussing Southern California development with a native of Denmark who is close to the lumbering industry. He sells sawmill equipment.

"I am going to invest in Los Angeles," he said. "There was a time when I thought San Francisco was the only city on the coast, but now that Los Angeles has stepped ahead in the matter of population and shipping I know that a city of a million people is not going to go backwards. It has never been so in history."

And he said a lot more that was mighty pertinent. For instance, he told of the rapid depletion of our forests; how that now is the day and age to build of wood, for in another fifty years we will be using substitutes that will not be so durable, perhaps.

So you had better delay no longer in building that home, folks. Lumber likely will never be lower.

Here are some editorial squibs from the state newspapers:

The packers insist that the eagle shall be exterminated because the bird eats salmon. But so do Indians and white men. And whose are they, anyway?—Sacramento Star.

It's awful to be president and know that the "Smith Brothers" are better known pictorially than you. But then people have been having coughs long before the United States started having presidents.—San Jose News.

The Cohens now outnumber the Smiths in New York by several thousand. Formerly they merely outgassed them.—Redding Free Press.

Burners of midnight oil when dad was a boy usually landed at the head of the class. Now they land in the police station, hospital or the morgue.—Willows Journal.

The human brain may or may not be an electric battery, as a scientist of the General Electric Company is trying to prove, but a lot of current brain activity gives us a shock.—Chico Record.

The man who thinks that he is exempt from taxes because the government does not deal with him directly is silly. The system makes everybody a tax collector as well as a taxpayer. Nobody but an indigent escapes and somebody has to pay for him.—Woodland Democrat.

There will be no doubt about the millennium when it arrives. It will be inaugurated by France and Germany coming to agreement about something.—Mail of Woodland.

It's plain enough why Texas hasn't lost its colored population like the rest of the South. Texas is so big that when a migrating native gets as far as Fort Worth or Dallas he thinks he's way north.—Rio Vista Banner.

The foreign situation is about the same, except that the names are getting harder to pronounce.—Santa Rosa Republican.

Santa Claus In Charge Of Big Show 'Oh-Ho' at School's New Auditorium

The biggest theatrical bargain that has been known in Glendale will be inaugurated Saturday night of this week. "Oh-Ho" is the more than delectable theatrical "dish" being offered, and all those who saw this production here ten days ago are loud in their praises of this show as ranking ahead of all local talent productions that have been staged in this city. "Oh-Ho" is a fun fest musical show, and it ranks in entertaining qualities right up to the standard of the very best professional productions.

"Oh-Ho" has been presented in nearly every city of California, always with local talent. The prices that have been charged for the "Oh-Ho" show in other cities have been in keeping with the prices charged for professional shows, and when it was presented here, the prices were a dollar fifty and a dollar.

Santa Claus in Charge On Saturday night, "Oh-Ho" will be staged at the bargain admission of 50 cents. Santa Claus is giving this show, and the plan of the Exchange Club sponsoring the production is to give everyone an opportunity to see "Oh-Ho," and that the money made on the show will go toward the purchase of Christmas gifts for Glendale's needy children.

This will be the last opportunity afforded the Glendale public to see "Oh-Ho," and to miss this production is to miss one of the finest laugh fests that the stage affords.

"Oh-Ho" is to be given on the fine big stage of the new Union High school auditorium. The seating capacity of the new High school auditorium will permit more than two thousand people to witness the "Oh-Ho" show Saturday night. All seats are at the same price, and every seat is reserved.

The reserved sale of seats will go on sale on Thursday morning at 10 o'clock at Roberts and Echols' Drug Store.

PERMITS EXCEED $500,000 FIGURE

$10,000,000 Goal In Sight As Totals for December Reach $9,740,918

The value of building permits issued during December at the office of H. C. Vandewater, municipal building superintendent, yesterday passed the half-million mark, totaling $518,759 at the close of the day's business.

A quarter of a million dollars is all that is needed now to reach the $10,000,000 mark for the year. The yearly total stood yesterday at $9,740,918.

CLUBS TO HONOR FOOTBALL TEAMS

Union High School Boys to Be Guests at Banquet Tomorrow Night

Honors will be paid the 1923 football teams of the Glendale Union High school tomorrow night, when the Chamber of Commerce, Glendale Realty Board, Credit Men's association, Kiwanis, Rotary and Exchange clubs will be hosts at a banquet at the Central Christian church.

Dinner will be served at 6:30 o'clock, and will be followed by a program, including:

Singing of the first verse of "America," led by Owen Emery, Herbert Henning accompanist; salute to the flag; invocation by Rev. C. A. Cole; band selection by high school band.

Message of Welcome

Introduction of Dr. Henry Harrower by W. E. Hewitt; message of welcome from the clubs, expressing appreciation of work done by teams, and a prediction for the coming year, Dr. Harrower.

How the teams were trained, and introduction of individual team members, by Coach Normal Hayhurst.

"Football," sung by all clubs, led by Owen Emery; team cheers and yells, led by high school leader; musical selection by the Haines trio.

Four-minute talks by representatives of clubs: Owen Emery, Credit association; George Karr, Rotary; Bob Johnson, Exchange; A. L. Ferguson, Kiwanis; E. F. Sanders, Chamber of Commerce; Peter Hanson, Realty Board.

Club songs by Rotary, Exchange and Kiwanis; band selections.

Tickets for the banquet are on sale at $1 each at the Chamber of Commerce office, and by secretaries of the various clubs participating. W. E. Hewitt is general chairman, and George J. Lyons is in charge of entertainment and publicity.

Jury Fails to Agree In Auto Crash Trial

The jury in the case of James Grant, 2740 West Colorado street, Eagle Rock, failed to reach a verdict yesterday in Judge F. H. Lowe's court.

Grant was arrested on complaint of S. N. Van Wormer, charged with reckless driving as the result of an automobile accident at the corner of California and Central avenues the night of October 2.

Van Wormer claimed that Grant was driving at an excessive rate of speed, resulting in the accident, while Grant asserted that he tried to avoid the accident, but failed.

The case will probably be retried.

Fastest train in the world traveling on regular schedule, covers 77 1/2 miles in 75 minutes, or running at a speed of 61.8 miles an hour.

WILL OPEN BANK ON E. BROADWAY

Federal Commercial & Savings Bank Plans to Extend Its Operations

That Glendale's financial growth is keeping pace with the growth in business and population is proven by the announcement of C. C. Cooper and J. V. Rea of The Federal Commercial and Savings Bank, corner of North Brand boulevard and East Wilson avenue, that that institution will open additional banking quarters at 612 East Broadway, to be distinct in management from the parent bank, on Saturday, December 29.

The officers named are: C. C. Cooper, president; J. V. Rea, vice-president and cashier, and George T. Harness, assistant cashier; who will be in active charge. An advisory board has been selected consisting of Fred S. Dixon, prominent local property owner; Francis J. V. Henry, manager, Sierra Beverage Co.; R. M. Brown, proprietor Glendale Feed & Fuel Co.; E. E. Harrington, Glendale investor and capitalist; J. C. Sherer, city treasurer and pioneer citizen; and Robert F. Adams of the Superior Printing Company.

As the same policy will be followed in the East Broadway bank that has in the past four months built the deposits of the Federal Commercial and Savings Bank to over $500,000, and won it a prominent place in financial circles of Glendale, the success of the new bank is assured, particularly as the combined Federal Commercial and Savings banks will have the co-operation and active support of over a hundred stockholders, all present owners and citizens of Glendale.

Keeps Open at Night For Shoppers' Benefit

Christmas shoppers who are anxious to take advantage of the many lovely gifts and cards offered at the J. H. Shafe's book, stationery and art store at 125-A South Brand boulevard, are greatly pleased that Mr. Shafe is keeping open every night until Christmas.

During his business activity in Glendale Mr. Shafe has acquired a loyal group of patrons, and these and new friends are crowding the store every day and evening during this pre-Christmas week.

Xmas Program to Aid Children's Hospital

Santa Claus is to be a special guest Friday night at the annual Christmas celebration of the Sunday school at the Tropic Presbyterian church.

Entertainment features will be a big tree, music and recitations, and an offering of fruit and clothing for the Children's Hospital in Los Angeles. H. P. Fry, superintendent, announces that the affair will begin at 7:30 o'clock.

SOUSA'S BAND TO VISIT GLENDALE

Pomeroy of Burbank Tells Exchange Club of Near East Relief Work

Announcement that plans are under way for bringing Sousa's world-famous band to Glendale early in 1924, probably in January, featured the noon luncheon of the Exchange club at the Egyptian Village today. Assurance was given that the great musicians are coming to Glendale, only the exact date of their appearance not being given.

Dr. George T. Pomeroy of Burbank was the speaker of the hour. He addressed the club on the Near East Relief question. An interesting motion picture film of Palestine was shown in connection, by L. D. Purdy.

It was announced that the annual election of officers will take place next Wednesday noon at the regular luncheon hour.

Wilson Juniors Are Victors in Touchball

The Junior team of Wilson avenue school downed Glendale avenue boys again yesterday in a touchball game on the Wilson Athletic field, with a score of 10 to 3. This team has played through the season without being once defeated in soccer and it has been equally successful in touchball.

Howard Heck and Neville Stanley are outstanding players who have starred throughout the season. Other members of the team are Klein, Holmberg, Dewitt, Grey, Connor, Siebert, Gasser, Eckert, Kent, Schickler, Pinkston, Doose, Kausen, Torrey, Falls, Zimmer.

Members of the Glendale avenue team are: V. Doll, G. Peterson, Alejandro, Robinson, La-throp, Conover, Hatcher, Lewis, King, Lee, Dieterich, Bains, Schwartzkopf.

H. E. Bremer referee; Walter F. Hansen umpired.

Presents Candy to Evening News Force

Edwards & Dennis, proprietors of the Chateau de Qualite, 108 East Broadway, yesterday presented the office force of The Glendale Evening News with a large box of their own chocolates, with the compliments of the season, to the great joy of all those who possessed a sweet tooth, and that included most of the front office crowd.

SCOUTS TO WAGE SNOWBALL FIGHT

Annual Hike to Mountains Is Planned by Executives For December 28

The Glendale Boy Scouts will start on their annual "snowball" hike from the high school on Friday December 28 at 8 a. m.

Machines will take the boys to the foot of the mountains in North Pasadena. From there the scouts will hike up the beautiful Arroyo Seco Canyon to Switzer's Camp. After plenty of good hot eats the boys will gather about the great open fire place in the "rock room" and enjoy themselves after the day's hike. There will be scout yells, scout songs, funny stories, adventure stories and a scary ghost story to go to bed on. The cold snappy night will not bother anyone as every scout will be snugly taken care of in a cabin or tent house with a bed with plenty of bedding.

Plan Snow Battles

After a hearty breakfast the scouts will hike by good trails to San Gabriel Peak. Here a big snow ball fight will be enjoyed up among the pine trees. The scenery from here on is grand in the extreme. The scouts will arrive at the foot of the mountains near Altadena before dark and be met by the machines for the home journey.

The boys will be accompanied by Scoutmasters and the Verdugo Hills Council Boy Scout Executive. The Scout Executive, who was formerly in the U. S. Forest Service, has already made this trip a number of times with large groups of Los Angeles scouts. Plenty of snow was always encountered on these former Christmas hikes.

All scouts who wish to take this wonderful hike will make application to Scout Headquarters, 103 1/2 S. Brand Blvd., by Wednesday night December 26. The trip will be limited to the first seventy-five scouts who make application. No applications will be received after next Wednesday evening.

Art Association to Hear John W. Cotton

Members of the Glendale Art association are to have a special fine treat in store for them at the social meeting on Friday night, December 21, when John W. Cotton will give a lecture on "American Artists."

Talks pertaining to Christmas art will also be given by other Glendale artists. Mrs. Roy Bal-lagh, vice-president of the association, urges all members to be present and extends a cordial invitation to all Glendaleans interested in art.

5 o'clock Monday afternoon.

Mrs. Ketchum was busy in the kitchen and the parties thoroughly ransacked the up-stairs rooms. Two purses, one containing $24, and the other $8, were taken, as well as a gold watch, a Masonic chain and a revolver.

Parents Are Guests Of Acacia Children

Christmas week at Acacia street school began with a Christmas party and program with which the kindergartners entertained their fathers and mothers on Friday night at the school.

The program included the following numbers: Songs, "Christmas Song," "Morning Sun," "Sleep Darling, Sleep," and "Daisy Song." Kindergarten orchestra led by Doris Vion; dramatization, "Pussy Cat," "Wee Willie Winkle," "Jack Be Nimble," and "Little Miss Muffet," "Pony Song," "Ribbon Song," "Santa Claus, So Jolly," and "Santa Claus Will Come Tonight." Reading, "Christmas Stocking"; dancing around the Christmas tree.

After the program the children distributed presents to their parents and the kindergarten teachers, Miss Ledyard and Miss Lou-den, were presented with fountain pens by the fathers of the pupils.

On Monday night the P. T. A. entertained the fathers with a very interesting program.

Miss Cornwell, principal of the Acacia school and the teachers arranged a Christmas party and treat for the pupils of the school yesterday.

A Christmas tree was erected in the yard on a table banked with favors for each pupil. The pupils were arranged in a semi-circle around the tree with the kindergartners next the tree, then the treats were distributed. The teachers who were the hostesses for this affair were Miss May Cornwell, principal, Miss Euell Ballenger, Miss Esther Garnett, Miss May Richards, Miss Marguerite Burch, Mrs. Ernestine Loudon, Miss Edith Ledyard, Miss Mary Rich, Miss Ruth Rider, Mrs. Julia Burton, Mrs. Lonella Bullis, Mrs. Gladys Hopkins, Miss Daisy Kearne.

Undergo Operations At Local Hospital

Miss Fannie Whiting of 1735 Grand View avenue was operated on last night at the Glendale Sanatorium and Hospital for appendicitis.

Mrs. C. K. Turpenning, 428 North Jackson street; Ernest Carl, 836 East Sixth street, Hermosa Beach, and Robert Fairburn, 2034 San Fernando road, Burbank, recently underwent minor operations at the same hospital.

Iowans to Celebrate State's Anniversary

Celebration of the seventy-seventh anniversary of the state of Iowa joining the union, is to be held by former Iowans, now in California, Friday, December 28, 1923, at the city club in the Chapman building, South Broadway at Eighth street, Los Angeles.

The Iowa association of Southern California is arranging the affair and all Iowans, resident or visiting, are invited to attend the dinner at 7 o'clock.

With so many other things to wonder about, some men insist on wondering whether their hair is combed.—Fairfield Enterprise.

HEWITT APPEALS FOR VOTERS' AID

Sewers Most Vital Issue Now Before City, Chamber Head Tells Board

"It is essential that everybody in Glendale who registered should turn out and vote on January 8, and that every voter see that his neighbor goes to the polls on that day."

This statement was made by W. E. Hewitt, president of the Chamber of Commerce and chairman of the sewer committee, in the course of his address to the Glendale Real Estate Board at its noon luncheon at the Egyptian Village today.

"The sewers are the most vital issue facing Glendale today," he declared, "and if the Real Estate board and every other organization in the city will do the right kind of work, the election will result in favor of the bonds by a ten to one vote."

Another speaker who urged the really men to vote for the bonds was W. L. Truitt. "Every member of the Glendale Realty board should appoint himself a committee of one to look after the voters in his block and take them to the polls on January 8," Mr. Truitt said.

Stickers boosting the sewer bonds, designed to be placed in windows, on automobile windshields and other conspicuous places, were distributed by J. M. Boland.

Plan Big Parade

L. H. Myers, chairman of the advertising committee, in a brief talk told of plans for boosting the sewer bonds during the big parade to be held in Glendale when the building permits for 1923 reach the ten million dollar mark. He says from 500 to 1000 automobiles should be in this parade.

Roy D. King, chairman of the board's finance committee, presented the budget for 1924. It was adopted unanimously.

An appeal was made to the realtors by Mr. Truitt for them to attend the big banquet to be given Glendale's football squads at the Central Christian church tomorrow night by the Chamber of Commerce and co-operating clubs.

Plans for a lecture course in real estate work, which is to be conducted under the auspices of the Glendale Real Estate Board, beginning January 9, were outlined by George D. McDill.

A. G. Arnold, head of the industrial department of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, was the principal speaker of the day, addressing the club on the industrial situation of southern California today.

GETS WELSH COAL

That the United States uses considerable Welsh coal is indicated in one order recently placed. This was for 150,000 tons to go from Wales to America in one shipment, though two vessels had to be chartered to take it. It is predicted that the trade will grow.

PROGRAM MARKS SCHOOL CLOSING

Wilson Avenue Pupils Hold Holiday Demonstration at Final Session

A Christmas assembly was held yesterday at Wilson avenue school as the closing activity before the school was dismissed for the holidays. The B-8 class gave the school a pleasant surprise by marching through the halls singing Christmas carols. As the various classes assembled, Susie Smith and Avis Young played Christmas airs on the piano. "O, Come, All Ye Faithful" was sung by the school, led by the girls' glee club, as the opening number. A reading by Marguerite Anderson related an amusing Christmas adventure. "The Birthday of a King" was sung by the boys' glee club.

A four-act play entitled "Christmas in Avenue and Alley" was presented by a group of pupils of the seventh and eighth grades. The central figure of the story is a little orphan and other characters were her associates in "poverty row" and a number of children from homes of wealthy residents of the avenue. The finale demonstrated the joy that may be brought to the orphan and the poor through the spirit of Christmas giving and helpfulness.

Members of Cast
Characters were taken as follows:
Nellie, the orphan, Mary Ann Fleming; Billy, street gamin, Marion Walker; Julia, Julia Pelley; Jack, Chas. Singer; Maggie, Madeline Finkbeiner; Maggie, Dorris Harris; Joe, Maurice Wilkins; Dorothy, Ruth Stein; Gwendolin, Josephine Miller; Evelyn, Naida Taylor; Harold, William Hellam; Rex, John Torrey; Santa Claus, Charles Wyman.

The play was directed by Mrs. Fern Fairy Lytle and Miss Lucretia Potter.

The girls' glee club sang "Silent Night" for a closing number. The singing was directed by Miss Helen Gould.

NASH EXECUTIVE CONCLUDES TRIP

Business Conditions Good In All Territory; Looks
For Bigger Sales

Indications pointing to even greater advance of the automobile industry in 1924, so far as standard makes of cars are concerned, are seen by E. H. McCarthy, general sales manager of the Nash Motors Company, who has returned to the factory after a business trip that took him through the northwest, into Canada, down the west coast, through California and the southwest to New Orleans, and as far southeast as Charlotte, North Carolina.

"On every hand," said Mr. McCarthy, in a letter to Donald C. Barbee, of the Nash Sales Co., Inc., 112 South Maryland street, local agents, "business men generally are looking forward with confidence to a period of continued sound prosperity during the coming year. In practically all of the sections visited business was apparently satisfactory; in some places conditions were more favorable than in others, but even at points where slow progress had prevailed for several years past, improvement was apparent and optimism over the coming year was seemingly unanimous.

"Throughout the territory west of the Rocky Mountains, sales of Nash cars have shown a gain of 55 per cent this year over 1922, and there is every reason to believe that a further gain of almost similar proportions may be expected in this same territory in 1924. In visiting the small towns through these sections the dealers who represent a good line of cars feel confident they will show greater increase in business during the year to come than was enjoyed in 1923, and there is a decided feeling of confidence on the part of Nash dealers in the advancement of their business during the coming year.

"Sales reports received by the factory from Nash dealers in the central west, and east and the southeast indicate plainly that these sections also are in sound condition. It seems apparent, therefore, that the opening of the New York Automobile Show on January 5, will signalize an era of continued prosperity based on a sound foundation, and the dealer who represents a standard line of automobiles is very likely to make satisfactory advancement in the period just ahead of us."

Germans may use the force of the tides to aid them to gain the power lost through their coal fields.

Bulls are color-blind, claims one psychologist.

Knights of Columbus Plan
To Give Away Lot at Sparr Heights

Glendale council, No. 1920, the Knights of Columbus, will hold a turkey raffle and drawing on the Sparr Heights lot, 8 o'clock, tomorrow night, December 20, announces H. V. Henry, past grand knight.

Jesse E. Smith, grand knight, will preside over the festivities, which will be held at the Knights of Columbus hall, 320 East Lomita avenue, and all are welcome, Mr. Henry states.

The proceeds of the turkey raffle will go into the Christmas charity fund of the organization. "This Sparr Heights lot, valued at $1200 at the time tickets were first sold on it, at last summer's picnic, has increased rapidly and is now worth $1700," says Mr. Henry. "This is going to make a mighty fine Christmas present for someone and interest in the drawing will be keen. All tickets have been sold."

PLAN TO ORGANIZE ACACIA AUXILIARY

Hold Program at School and Outline Fathers' Association

The humorous interpretation of the letters P-T-A. to mean "Pa Tags After" given by Professor Rogers, dean of education at the University of Southern California, in a recent address before a Parent-Teachers' Association, was evidenced on Monday night, at the Acacia street school when the fathers, after listening to several talks on the advantages of a father's auxiliary, took action to call a meeting for January 5 to consider organizing a Fathers' Auxiliary to the Acacia street school Parent-Teachers' Association.

Mrs. L. B. Torrey, president of the association, greeted the visitors cordially and announced the program of the evening.

Orchestra Pleases
The Acacia street school orchestra made its first public appearance, under the direction of Miss Brennen and gave a very creditable performance. Other numbers were: violin solo by Philip Nelson; chimes dance by Virginia Phelps, Marjory Goodhew, and Shirley Bennett; two songs, "Silent Night" and "Glendale Song," by boys of the fifth and sixth grades; Rose dance, by Nellie Alshire.

C. R. Rettig, secretary of the Broadway Fathers' Auxiliary, spoke on "How to Organize a Fathers' Auxiliary"; Mr. Ferguson, president of the same auxiliary, on "Reasons Why Fathers Should Organize"; and Superintendent Richardson D. White, on "What Help the P-T-A. Can Be to the Schools."

Five Hundred Million to Be New York's Christmas Bill, Merchants Estimate

By JACK CARBERRY
For The International News Service.
NEW YORK, Dec. 19.—This will be a $500,000,000 Christmas in New York, merchants and bankers here estimate. It will break all records. Manhattan has gone on an orgy of buying.

The path of the reindeer was being strewn with tinsel from East Side tenement to Riverside Drive apartment. The narrow little island, bulging with cash, was filling itself with gimcracks and diamond necklaces—all to be distributed as Christmas gifts.

The nameless "shoppers" of Fifth avenue took on the appearance of a fourteenth street "five-an-ten" with crowds. Three big leading department stores, Santa's headquarters for Mrs. Average New Yorker, were "mad houses."

Sidewalk vendors on lower Sixth avenue—Toyland for New York's countless poor—sold their German-made trinkets by the gross. On the avenue the dolls that walk and talk and the toy automobiles that run were being bought by the thousand.

Out-of-town shoppers packed hotels. Motor-car row declares "there never was anything like it."

One Fifth avenue florist reports sales of $6,000 a day on potted plants alone—a figure, he estimates, that will touch $25,000 for the night before Christmas.

On Main street Christmas is for the children.

On Broadway—one motor-car dealer admits he already has orders to deliver $10,000 cars to two stage doors.

Pearls and fur coats, according to the exclusive shops on the avenue, are the favorite gifts for women.

And next to its women New York spends the most on its liquid cheer.

Christmas Liquor

Nineteen liquor-laden ships now lie on "Rum Row." Bootleggers tell of the coming, before Christmas, of as many more. Cargoes range all the way from $500,000 to $1,250,000 in value. New York will buy up every drop.

VETERANS TO GET CHRISTMAS CHEER

Mrs. E. W. Gilliland Calls For Committee Members and Others to Help

Mrs. E. W. Gilliland, chairman of ex-service men's and women's welfare for the Tuesday Afternoon club, has issued a call to all members of her committee and all organizations who have assisted her in plans for Christmas work, to a meeting at 9 o'clock Thursday morning at the clubhouse.

At this time the baskets for the ex-service people at the Barlow and Sawtelle hospitals will be packed and made ready for delivery and plans will be made for the Christmas celebrations at both places.

Organizations from which Mrs. Gilliland is expecting representatives are War Mothers, D. A. R., Red Cross, Jewish Sisterhood, Legion Auxiliary, American Legion post, and various sections of the Tuesday Afternoon club.

Mrs. Gilliland and her assistants are planning to take four Christmas trees and eighty baskets to the Barlow hospital. In addition to this Christmas cheer a group of high school singers are to visit the hospital Christmas morning to sing carols. Then on the evening of December 26 the Glendale women will sponsor a program and entertainment at the hospital.

Similar baskets will be sent to the Sawtelle hospital, and a holiday entertainment will be given there the night of December 28.

Humane Society to Meet Thursday Night

The Glendale Humane Society will hold a business meeting at the City Hall, Thursday night, December 20, at 8 o'clock, it is announced. Several matters of vital importance are to be transacted, including reorganization, election of officers for the coming year, and the adoption of the constitution and by-laws.

Venice Casts Its Spell Of Romance as Gondolas Glide Along Quiet Canals

Venice, the city of gondolas, without an automobile, horse or vehicle of any kind, is pictured by W. B. Kirk in his travel letter today. Mr. Kirk heads his letter "Venice (not California), November 21." He continues:

"Charming Venice! Who has not heard of Venice? The very word suggests romance, canals, gondolas, music, moonlight, ubiquitous Latin tradesmen, tame pigeons, and they are all here, sometimes. The weather doesn't always act right to give just the right setting to all this, but one can see that it is just as imagined when the weather and season are at their best."

"But I am ahead of my story. I want to tell you a little about Verona. We had time to see something of it before our train left for Venice, and found it to be a much more interesting old city than we had heard."

"The principal sight, of course, is the 'Arena,' or coliseum, which, while not as celebrated as the one at Rome, is nevertheless well worth seeing. It dates from B. C., and, while some of the outer walls are gone, it is still a very large amphitheatre. It is of granite and marble blocks, although some of them are not of best quality. It is still used for celebrations, open air theatricals, etc."

Show Juliet's Tomb
"Verona is quite a Shakespearean town, as you will recall, not only as the home of 'The Two Gentlemen,' but also of 'Romeo and Juliet.' There seems to be some evidence that these latter were real characters and the house of Juliet as well as her tomb are two of the show places of the town."

"The narrow, winding streets, leading into large circular open spaces, are of the same general character as those in all European cities, and the statues and monuments are as profuse as ever. We were in two of the very old cathedrals, all of which are 'different,' and all of which amply repay a visit."

"Verona contains many churches, and if the constant summons to prayer and service are an evidence of the devotional character of the people, they are certainly religious, because the ringing of the bells filled the air nearly the entire Sunday morning. It is only surpassed by those here in Venice, which is nearly the same on week days, beginning before getting-up time in the morning."

"Church buildings are the outstanding conspicuous objects in all towns in Europe. In every hamlet we pass, a tall church spire is the first thing to be seen. How can people be really worshipful even of the images of Jesus, and hate their neighbors in another nation? These churches can be made the foundation stones of everlasting peace if the naturally devotional nature of the people is appealed to along the right lines and they are shown that the Christ, whom they worship, forgave those who slew him and ever taught forgiveness as an essential (Continued on Page 8)

CAMPAIGN LASTS ONE DAY LONGER

Awards In Salesmanship
Club Will Be Decided
Inside Next Few Hours

By J. A. MALCOLM
Salesmanship Club Manager
One more day!

These three words have a mighty big meaning when we consider the importance of the result of The Glendale Evening News $10,500 salesmanship campaign which is now nearing conclusion. This last day will undoubtedly be the deciding factor in determining the winners of the splendid array of prizes which have dazzled the eyes of the entire community because of their exceptional value. During the past seven weeks the club members have been engaged in accumulating the credits that would put them over the top, and during that time The Glendale Evening News big campaign has gained fame that is widespread. It is a known fact that this is the most liberal subscription campaign ever inaugurated in this section.

The Evening News is justly proud of the list of club members who are competing with might and main in this campaign for the thousands of dollars offered in cash commissions. It seems that each section or neighborhood has chosen its brightest and most energetic leader as a representative, and these favorites are well fulfilling the expectations of their hundreds of friends and supporters.

Neck-and-Neck Race

The race at the close of the second period was truly a neck-and-neck affair, and so close were some of the club members that just one club of subscriptions separated two of the high club members. However, not one club member has any material advantage over the others at present, but the number of subscriptions each is able to secure by tomorrow night will tell the final story.

Now is the time for those who are competing to make the dust fly, as there is only one short day. (Continued on Page 4)

Daily News Letter

General News and Gossip from Staff Writers at Home and Abroad.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 19.—“The hand that rocks the cradle nowdays pulls the trigger.”

That's the belief of Judge J. Willis Martin, president of commonpleas court, who expressed himself in this manner at a recent testimonial dinner given Coroner's Physician William S. Wadsworth. The dinner having been attended by nearly 200 leaders of the medical profession, bench and bar, the speeches just naturally had to deal with such entertaining after-dinner subjects as the uncivilized sports of murder, suicide and perhaps the sanguinary topic of how best to perform an autopsy.

And Judge Martin, following his above introductory sentence, sustained the interest of his illustrious audience by elaborating:

“In former days when two men both sought a woman's heart and hand they settled the dispute with a duel in which one fell, and the other married the fair one. But now the girl shoots one of her suitors, marries the other and then collects the insurance of the victim.”

The unusual tribute to Dr. Wadsworth, at which Judge Martin delivered himself of the choice “expose” of how some of the more deadly species solve a social problem, was occasioned by the coroner's physician rounding 24 years of service. During this time he performed 6000 autopsies and won acclamation as the “foremost autopsy and gunshot expert of the country.”

And it developed at the dinner that Dr. Wadsworth receives only $2500 a year from the county. Not enough, was the consensus of opinion of judges, lawyers and doctors, and forthwith was appointed a committee to request an increase of the city council.

You may not be aware of it, but Benjamin Franklin was the inventor of the quick-lunch counter chair and the rocking-chair device which causes gentle zephyrs to caress the pate of him who sits below.

At least these are contentions of Dr. Asa Don Dickinson, University of Pennsylvania librarian, who makes a great point of showing visitors the large arm-chair in the university's Franklin collection, which he calls “the grandfather of the quick-lunch counter chair.” Ben Franklin invented the chair and kept it in his library. One arm is of unusual width and can be swung to a side when not in use. This arm, according to records, held many of Franklin's frugal lunches.

The founder of Penn was no lover of flies, and the other invention accredited to him by Dr. Dickinson was a device which caused swinging of an automatic fan over his bald head as he swayed backward and forward in his rocking-chair.

If the religious press wielded extraordinary powers the City of Brotherly Love would be the “greatest” city in the universe. At present it is the most important center of the religious press of the world. Right here are publishing headquarters of four great religious denominations—Presbyterian, Reformed, Lutheran and Baptist—and the American Sunday School Union.

Statistics show that 20 religious publishing houses in the city issue 46 weekly, 26 monthly and 146 quarterly papers and magazines for a total annual output of 138,978,000 copies.

THIRD MATE TO BRING LOVE?

Twice Denied Irene Castle By Dame Fate

Mrs. Irene Foote Castle Treman McLaughlin, her two former husbands and the present. Below, at left, Vernon Castle, her first. Above, at right, Capt. Robert Treman. Below, at right, Maj. Fred McLaughlin.

CHICAGO, Dec. 19.—Will Irene Castle Treman find, with her third husband, the love that has been denied her twice by Dame Fate?

This is what her friends and those who know her through her dancing and screen appearances are asking as she sails toward the South Seas with Major Fred McLaughlin, son of a Chicago coffee king and her third husband.

Death parted Irene and her first husband, Vernon Castle. Their romance grew out of their dancing partnership. Many are they who say that the young Englishman was more responsible for her rise to fame than was Irene's ability to dance and wear fashionable gowns. He taught her much of her dancing. When the war began he enlisted, and, after service abroad, was killed in Texas while instructing student aviators.

Then Capt. Robert Treman, Ithaca, N. Y., came into her life. They had known each other in their school days. They were married about a year after Castle's death. For a time they were ideally happy. Then they sought less of each other's company. She divorced him in July, 1923. The public did not learn of the divorce for months, however. When the rumor first came out, Irene denied it—announced she and the captain were still in love with each other. Treman said it was the first he had heard about it, and announced that he “would have to have a talk with Irene about it.”

McLaughlin, too, has been married before. His first wife was Miss Helen Wylie of Boston. They have been divorced fifteen years. He and Irene have known each other for years—they were “kid” sweethearts, some say.

McLaughlin is well known as an intrepid polo player and an enthusiastic rider after the quently and has narrowly escaped death a number of times.

His father was the late W. F. McLaughlin, who made a fortune in coffee. His first serious work, it is said, was in the world war. Then he showed that his social life hadn't spoiled him. Joining the Black Hawk division, he went across as a member of the Thirty-third machine gun battalion and his work there earned him promotions to the rank of major.

Irene, whose maiden name was Irene Foote, lived in New Rochelle, N. Y., in her girlhood days.

P-T. A. Spreads Cheer At Broadway School

The Broadway Parent-Teachers' association brought real Christmas cheer to the pupils, faculty and janitor yesterday afternoon, when school was dismissed for the holiday vacation.

Each one of the 500 children received a candy cane. The teachers were presented with an attractive reed jardiniere set for their rest room, and the janitor was given a check.

Mrs. Mary Reese, president of the P-T. A., and her associates planned this happy surprise.

Uncle Wiggily Bedtime Stories

BY HOWARD R. GARIS

UNCLE WIGGILY ON STILTS

There was a banging, clanging sound in the Wagtail house one morning. The Wagtail house was where Billie and Nannie Wagtail the goat children, lived.

“Gracious sakes!” bleated Aunt Lettie, the dear, fussy, little, nervous old goat lady, “whatever is the matter? Is the house on fire? Are they putting up their ladders?”

“Oh, I think not, Aunt Lettie,” answered Mrs. Wagtail, her sister. “That is only Billy getting out some of his toys, I imagine. Is that you, Billie?” she called to her little boy.

“Yes, Mother,” he answered. “Again the banging, clattering noises sounded.”

“Whatever are you doing?” asked Mrs. Wagtail. “Don't pull the house down, whatever you do!” begged Aunt Lettie.

“Oh, I'm not doing that!” laughed Billie. “I'm just getting out my stilts for Uncle Wiggily. They're sort of stuck under my drum, and that's what makes the noise.”

“Why are you getting out your stilts at this time of year?” asked Aunt Lettie. “Seems to me it's about time for skates and sleds.”

“I'm getting them for Uncle Wiggily,” said Billie again. “Your stilts for Uncle Wiggily,” bleated Mrs. Wagtail. “Billie, boy, what do you mean? Uncle Wiggily doesn't want your stilts!”

“Oh, I know he doesn't zazzakly want them,” admitted Billie. “But yesterday Peetie Bow Wow lent Uncle Wiggily some roller skates and I guess maybe Uncle Wiggily will tell Santa Claus to bring Peetie something nice for Christmas. And I was thinking, if I let Uncle Wiggily take my stilts—because my roller skates are broken—that maybe Uncle Wiggily would speak to Santa Claus about me.”

Billie kept on pulling away at his stilts, which were out in the bush with some other summer toys. Aunt Lettie looked at Mrs. Wagtail and Mrs. Wagtail looked at Aunt Lettie.

“Let him do as he wants to,” whispered Aunt Lettie. “Boys will be boys, you know, and Uncle Wiggily is kind.”

“Yes, I know,” whispered Mrs. Wagtail. “Uncle Wiggily may pretend he wants the stilts, so he won't hurt Billie's feelings. But of course that rabbit gentleman will never try to walk on the stilts.”

“Oh, of course he won't,” agreed Aunt Lettie. “By this time Billie had pulled his stilts out from under a pile of other playthings and was skipping off down the path with the long pieces of wood over his shoulder.”

I suppose you know all what stilts are, so I don't need to tell you. I might mention that they are long sticks of wood, with little shelves where you can put your feet. And when you walk on stilts you are high up off the ground, like a giant.

Billie hurried over to the hollow stump bungalow before going to school.

“I've brought you my stilts, Uncle Wiggily,” bleated the goat boy.

“Oh, thank you, Billie,” greeted the bunny. “But did I—er—now did I ask you to bring them?”

For he thought perhaps, he might have said something about liking to try a pair of stilts, and then have forgotten it.

“Oh, no, you didn't zazzakly ask me to for them,” bleated Billie. “But I thought maybe you might like to try them, ‘cause I won't want them for a long time. And, Uncle Wiggily—”

“Yes, Billie?” asked the bunny, as the goat boy didn't seem to know what to say. “What is it?”

“Well, I—now—I want you to take my stilts,” bleated Billie. “And if you should happen to see Santa Claus—”

“Oh, all right! I'll tell him!” laughed Uncle Wiggily. “Now run along to school, Billie.”

Billie shook his horns and ran along to school. Uncle Wiggily looked at the stilts and then Nurse Jane came out on the porch.

“Wiggy, my dear! You aren't thinking of walking on stilts are you?” asked the muskrat lady. “I was thinking a little of it,” answered the bunny. “I used to be a good still walker when I was a young rabbit, and—”

“Oh, at your age, you shouldn't think of walking on stilts!” cried

Miss Fuzzy Wuzzy. “You might fall, and if you did—”

But just then the wind puffed out its cheeks and blew a strong blast. It blew Nurse Jane's sweeping cap off her head and landed the cap up into a tall tree.

“Oh, my nice new sweeping cap! It's up in the tree!” cried the muskrat lady.

“I'll get it for you,” offered Uncle Wiggily.

“You can't—you aren't tall enough to reach,” said Nurse Jane. “I can stand on Billie's stilts and reach,” said the bunny. And he did. Getting on the stilts made him very tall, so he could easily reach up into the tree and take down Nurse Jane's cap.

“Thank you,” squeaked the muskrat lady. Then Uncle Wiggily walked around on the stilts as he had done when he was young. And the Fuzzy Fox jumped out of the bushes and tried to bite the bunny's legs. But they were so high, on the stilts, that the fox couldn't bite anything but the wooden pieces, and when he did this he got his tongue full of slivers, which served him right.

So, after all, it was a good thing Billie let the bunny take the stilts. And if the looking glass doesn't make jolly funny faces at the wash rack in the bath room, so that it splashes water on the cake of soap, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and the coaster wagon.

of real professionals and won literally hundreds of friends.

After our run of “Smilin' Through” ends Saturday night, we will open next Wednesday, December 26, with “Pollyanna,” one of the greatest plays the country has ever seen and a universal favorite.

The week following we will offer “East Is West,” which will be followed by such plays as “Peg o' My Heart” and “Madame X.”

In Edythe Elliott and Rodney Hildebrand we have two very talented players, and the supporting cast is worthy of their abilities.

William McMasters is very capable as a designer and W. Fletcher as a builder of scenery. Our electrician, Cyril Leden, is a master at theatrical lighting effects. In every department we have the requisite organization for a long and successful season here in Glendale, our choice of all California as a city in which to continue our great success won during a continuous six years' engagement in Vancouver, B. C.

Seats for “Smilin' Through” are now on sale at Matthews' Confectionery parlors, corner of West Broadway and Orange street.

Crude sugar cones of the Latin-American markets are said to give coffee a smoother savor than refined sugar.

FOOTBALL SEASON HELP TO BUDGET

Gridiron Sport Proves Great Financial Benefit to Various Colleges

The appeal of football to the college undergraduate and the public at large, seems to be growing from year to year. Each season there is an attendance record broken. Especially is this true of the west, where a crowd of 72,000 turned out to witness the annual California-U. S. C. classic.

But even in the east all colleges of importance depend upon the receipts of the gridiron season to finance college athletics the rest of the year. An announcement of interest in this connection was recently made by Sidney H. Hutchinson, chairman of the University of Pennsylvania Council on Athletics.

"Those who complain about the prominence given to football ought to realize," he said, "that with the exception of basketball and track, both of which last year turned in a small profit to Pennsylvania, it is football that maintains the seventeen other sports that Pennsylvania fosters."

On Financial Feet
Here at home as the result of the championship team that Glendale boasted, the net income of the game in the semi-finals with Long Beach, was more than the entire athletic budget set aside by the board of trustees for the entire year. The student body is now on its feet as far as athletic finances are concerned, and much needed material to aid in the development of teams will be purchased.

While college sports are not run with an idea of financial gain, it is essential that there be a certain income to meet the expenses of producing a team of good calibre. No other college sport does this like football, and for this reason it will not be abolished from the athletic program, certain statements of high-minded reformers as to the brutality of the pastime, to the contrary notwithstanding.

Local Legion Team To Play Bank Five

The Glendale American Legion basketball team will swing into action for the second time this season when they meet the Hellman bank five Thursday night at the high school gym.

While this is not a regular league game, a fast contest is assured, as the Hellman quintet is one of the leaders in the Bankers' league in Los Angeles.

The locals will present the same line-up that defeated Victory post 71 to 16 last Thursday night. Every effort is being made to go through the season without a defeat.

GRID FANS WAIT EAST-WEST GAME

Meeting of Washington and Navy 'Elevens Rousing Keenest Interest

After much "smoking up," with the game on one day and off the next, folks are sitting back now and awaiting with much interest the spectacle of New Year's day when Enoch Bagshaw's Washington Huskies represent the West against the United States Naval Academy Middles from Annapolis.

This promises to be the most colorful game of any East-West contest staged in connection with the Tournament of Roses. Pacific fleet officers state there will be a rooting section of 20,000 officers and "gobs," with a band of 200 pieces. Washington is going to run at least one special train south, so it looks as if the side lights of the big contest would be as interesting to watch as the game itself.

Anyone who has been fortunate enough to be present at an Army-Navy game knows that when the sailors do anything in the spectacular line they do it right. Probably the greatest rooting section in the history of American football will be on hand to cheer the seagoing men to victory.

Navy Is Dangerous
While the Navy was not very well up in the running on eastern gridirons this year, anyone who thinks that the Annapolis machine is a "set-up" is making a great mistake. They always play a hard game and it is a safe bet they will give everything they have to win the New Year's fracas, as it will be the only East-West contest this year.

Word comes from Seattle that the Huskies are practicing under the electric lights, and getting back into their conference stride. The scrubs are using Navy formations sent out from friends in the East, and the regulars are being instructed as to how to break them up.

LEAGUE HEAD IS IN FULL CHARGE

Harry Williams Takes Over Office and Records at San Francisco

Harry Williams, new president of the Pacific Coast league by virtue of the ratification of his selection by the National Board of Arbitration, is now in San Francisco receiving the money, records and office fixtures of the league from William H. McCarthy, all of which he will move to Los Angeles.

Williams' election is generally regarded as an exceptionally happy occurrence, and it is believed that he will be a candidate for the Nobel peace prize in 1925 if he can restore harmony in the Coast league. He has already recommended an expense allowance of $4 per day for the umpires while on the road, and this, of course, will make him popular with the handlers of the indicator. He has declared for ten umpires instead of eight, three to be used in crucial series of the schedule.

Sacramento Happy
"Lord" Byron, well known ump, has been released at his own request to officiate in the international league. This will appease Sacramento, where he started a show last season that threatened to embroil the entire state in civil war. They have been gunning for the "Lord" ever since that eventful day.

There is strong talk of abandoning the Vernon park, which has none too good street car facilities, and taking the Tigers to the Angels' lot to play when the latter are on the road, according to the arrangement that used to be worked between the Giants and Yanks at the Polo grounds before the Colonels built their big stadium for Babe Ruth et al.

Williams, elected for a term of five years, will have ample time to demonstrate his leadership ability and to show whether or not the faith placed in him by the so-called "Big Five" was justified.

OLYMPIC ELEVEN TO MEET INDIANS

Haskell Redskins to Furnish Christmas Sport Fare to Hungry Fans

The Winged-O gridirons from the Olympic club at San Francisco and the Haskell Indians from Lawrence, Kan., will furnish Los Angeles' piece de resistance for the athletically starved on Christmas day.

This scrimmage, while not having the significance of the New Year's tilt at Pasadena, will give football followers an opportunity to see Levi, hailed as one of the greatest backs since Thorpe, of Carlisle, in action. The whole Haskell team has been built around this star, and reports say, despite his 200 pounds, he is a first-class open field runner, exceptionally fast, and can pass and kick.

Olympic Stars
Opposed to him in the club eleven will be several California and Stanford stars whose names are a by-word to football fans of the west coast. "Brick" Muller, "Duke" Morrison and Charley Erb and others will participate against the Indians, and if these stars, with others in the lineup, can get any semblance of team work they should have no difficulty in turning back the invaders.

The Redskins are already on their way to the coast, in the hope of finding better training weather than prevails in their native tepee country at this time of the year, and will put in some strenuous licks after their arrival here.

THE GLENDALE

"Six-Cylinder Love," shows at the Glendale Theatre for the last times today. This is the screen adaptation of the popular New York play with Ernest Truex in the lead, and he is the star in the film version as well. Elmer Clifton produced the picture for William Fox.

The story told by "Six-Cylinder Love" is of two young married couples having all they can do to make both ends meet, who then find the plot complicated with a powerful motor car. This leads to situations screamingly funny. In the supporting cast are Florence Eldridge, Donald Meek, Maude Hill, Anne McKittrick, Marjorie Milotn, Thomas Mitchell, Ralph Slipperry, Berton Churchill, Harold Mann, Frank Tweed and Grace Gordon.

In many of the modern banks only one type of vault door is used, this being the so-called plug door, which is shaped like a cork.

THE GATEWAY

Harry Carey in "Desert Driven" is the feature at the Gateway Theatre today—Carey in love, amid the revels of cabaret night life, riding hell-bent-for-election across the desert, escaping from prison, dodging bullets, wounded and in supplication, in the arms of his light-o-love—Carey ridin' wild!

This is a real honest-to-gracious western, worthy the name. Any time Harry Carey has a vehicle like "Desert Driven," by Wyndham Martyn, he is good. And just to make it an all-star picture and not just this popular star, they put Marguerite Clayton opposite him and gave him a supporting cast including Tom Lingham, Jack Carlyle, Jim Wang and three hundred extras.

Diet and Health

By Lulu Hunt Peters, M.D.
Author of "Diet and Health, with Key to the Calories"

KEEPING WARM IN TUBERCULOSIS

In my last two papers on tuberculosis I have quoted Pottinger and Webb and Ryder on the value of rest and fresh air in tuberculosis. Today I am going to give you a summary of what Webb and Ryder say about keeping warm in tuberculosis.

First, a little bit as to climates. They state that it appears most patients do better in varied, semi-severe climates than in very mild climates and equable ones. That is a comfort to those who cannot go to Florida, Colorado or California.

However, they state that it is clearly an advantage to be where outdoor life is agreeable at all seasons; but that if you cannot do this, with an open fire and open windows you can make a Florida or Colorado or California at home, but that you must, as far as possible, accustom yourself to be out of doors in all weathers, and make a study of the means of keeping yourself comfortable.

"As to clothing, the best rule is, wear as much as you need to keep warm, but no more. Have a variety of garments, and dress like a layer cake, putting on and taking off according to the weather. For very cold days, when sitting out or driving, a very warm, heavy cloth or fur coat may be necessary, but ordinarily a collection of sweaters and coats is more adaptable to the temperature of the day. Never take walking exercise in a very heavy coat."

"Do not let cold or rain catch you unprepared. Always take a coat if there is a chance of needing it, and put it on as soon as you do need it, but not before. If you go out in the rain, wear rubbers and carry an umbrella; if in the snow, wear overshoes. It is far better to be fussy than foolish, and these precautions are really wise and important."

"Never get wet or chilled unnecessarily; but, remember, it is safer to get wet than to hurry. If you do get wet or cold, take a warm bath and put on dry clothes as soon as possible."

"Do not let your feet be cold, day or night. When sleeping out, make your arrangements so that you can keep warm without a heavy load of covers, for this is very fatiguing. In general, quilts, especially eiderdown ones, are lighter and warmer than blankets. Wear outing flannel pajamas—two suits if necessary—the legs of which may be tucked into loose stockings of cotton or wool. If you suffer from cold, other garments may be worn over the pajamas. Sweaters are comfortable but perhaps fit too closely. An excellent garment for this purpose is a very long, loose gown of wool flannel, coming below the feet. A number of night caps and helmets are made, but most of them are too tight and hot. A very loose bag of outing flannel with an opening for the face is quite satisfactory.

"It is important to have the bed warm under you as well as over you. Two mattresses may be used, with a layer of paper between them, or a comforter or blanket may be spread on the mattress under the mattress cover. Outing flannel sheets are much warmer than plain cotton ones, and a pair of blankets, instead of sheets, are warmer still. Do not tuck the covers in under the sides of the mattress; it is warmer to let them hang and adjust them loosely to your body."

"Use hot water bottles, 'pigs,' or electric heating pads if necessary, but always with a caution against having them too hot. In all circumstances remember the general principles: You must be warm, all over, all the time; you must get as much fresh outdoor air as possible; and you must not overload yourself with clothes and covers."

Have you bought your Christmas Seals to have a little share in the prevention and cure of tuberculosis?

My Dear Followers: When sending for material which we offer you, please remember to enclose a stamped envelope bearing your full name and address. The pamphlet on reducing and gaining is the only one for which you must enclose 4 cents in stamps extra. Address your letters to me in care of this column. Make them as brief as possible, not over 250 words, and type or write, then legibly with ink. I will sign your name as evidence of good faith—we will not use it in any way. Remember, it is impossible for me to diagnose for you or to answer you personally. I appreciate very much the beautiful letters you send me and regret it is impossible to give you individual advice. The questions you ask will be answered in the columns as soon as possible, if they are of general interest. Don't forget the S. & A. if you expect me to send you the information I have offered.

Heart and Home Problems

By MRS. ELIZABETH THOMPSON

VACATION ACQUAINTANCES

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a girl in my late teens and have just returned from my vacation.

Before I left I had been going with a young man whom I learned to like real well. He spent the summer with his parents in another town, but we corresponded.

We are both home now and I would like very much to renew our friendship. How can I do this without seeming forward or overstepping the bounds of ladyhood?

If you are still corresponding with the young man, tell him that you have returned and would like to have him come to see you. I presume that it will not be long before he asks to call and he will do so without any effort on your part.

ABOUT "PETTING"

Dear Mrs. Thompson: As I read the letter by "Experience" I felt

I would like to say a few words to the girl who wasn't popular because she hated petting.

I know what it means to be unpopular with the crowd, for I was myself, unless I was writing, help, etc. Then I was popular enough, but when it came to parties and good times they seemed to completely forget my existence. It was because I would not do everything they thought all right.

I am 23 years old and my husband is 26. We have been married four years—four happy years of comradeship and love.

I look back to the time when I was lonely and unpopular and I can see that I did not miss anything by being left out. "Experience" will no doubt say I have missed ever so much. I will admit that I have missed some things and I am thankful that I have, for my unpopularity with the crowd has won for me the love and admiration of the dearest man on earth. (Surely every woman has the privilege of thinking her husband is the best.)

Now I am happy in a little home filled to overflowing with sweet, sincere love, instead of paying the bitter price so many of our girls all over the land are paying for a so-called good time.

RECEIVING A CALLER

Dear Mrs. Thompson: When a girl is going out with a young man, should she have her coat and hat ready to put on when he rings

the door?

popular as well as the popular girl.

TO THE UNPOPULAR GIRL LET ME

say: Stick to your ideals and do not sacrifice your principles for

ALUM AND MILK

Alum and milk doesn't sound very appetizing, but as a matter of fact it is an excellent lotion for the hands, especially for hands that are continually moist and hot. The formula is a teaspoonful of powdered alum to a cup of milk. This is poured into a bowl and the hands held in it for several minutes. Then they are patted dry, and if they are sticky they are rinsed in cool water. You may be able to use this lotion several times, but as a general thing it cures and can only be used once or twice.

There are several other excellent preparations for the hands that are easily made up at home. Ground oatmeal powder is splendid for keeping the skin of the hands soft in the most severe weather. One of my friends has a novel way of using it. She mixes the oatmeal powder to a paste about the consistency of thick cream. She puts it into a big china box with a lid, but any sort of covered bowl would do.

After she has washed her hands with soap and water she simply buries them in this soft paste and lets them stay buried three to five minutes. Then she rinses off what clings to the skin, dries her hands and cleans under her nails with a pointed file. This treatment takes too long to do more than once a day, but in her case, at least, it is quite worth the time.

A very useful lotion to use on the hands is four ounces of honey mixed with one ounce of glycerine and one ounce of eau de Cologne. The hands should be rubbed well with this, and if they are sticky afterwards, rinsed off with cool water. It is difficult to use cold cream on the hands. It only makes them take up dirt afterwards. But cold cream rubbed into the hands before they are washed will undoubtedly keep them from chapping, no matter how cold the days are. The cream is washed off so the hands are not sticky, but a little will have penetrated the skin.

Z. Irene S.: It is likely that the shock to your nervous system from your losses of last year

"Suppose these young people do not marry, could the future sweethearts of the girl look upon the scene as he had, would there ever be any future sweethearts?" Indeed, he doubted it.

To the unpopular girl let me say: Stick to your ideals and do not sacrifice your principles for what they call popularity. It won't pay. A HAPPY WIFE.

DETAILS OF HOW CAMPAIGN WILL CLOSE

This period, the final one of the campaign, no subscriptions will be accepted through the campaign department of The News, but instead, candidates themselves will deposit their final collection in a sealed ballot box, located at the Federal Commercial and Savings Bank.

Monday the ballot box was locked and sealed, and placed in the vaults of the Federal Commercial Savings Bank, where it will remain until 8 o'clock Thursday night, December 20. At that time the seals will be broken, the box unlocked, and immediately thereafter the final count will take place.

The winners will be determined by merely adding the published credit totals, as they appear for the last time in The News, to the reserve votes and orders contained in the sealed box. There will be no waiting; no complicated count, but simply a matter of adding the credits and announcing the winner.

All candidates should be sure to get their final collections in the ballot box before 8 p. m., as the campaign will close promptly at that time—not one minute before, nor one minute later. Mail orders received after 8 p. m. will NOT be figured in.

Important Notice

Only Cash or Bank Drafts are to be deposited in the sealed ballot box. Personal Checks up to $25 accepted, providing no two are signed by the same party. This ruling is made in fairness to all club members, and will be strictly adhered to.

It shall be the privilege of each of the leading club members, and it is the desire of this newspaper that they shall avail themselves of this invitation, to select someone—be he father, brother, husband or friend—to represent them on the last night, to sit with the judges, and to assist in the final count.

Members of the Advisory Board, selected at the beginning of the race, will be asked to act as judges; to canvass the findings in the ballot box, and to award the prizes. The personnel of this board is as follows:

- SPENCER ROBINSON, Mayor of the City of Glendale.

EX-BANKERS SENTENCED

GREAT FALLS, Mont., Dec. 19. —R. B. Noble, former vice-president of the Commercial National bank of this city, and Julius C. Peters, former director of the institution, were sentenced yesterday to serve 2½ years in the federal prison at Leavenworth, Kan., following conviction of making false entries in the books of the bank. They were also fined $2,500 each.

What made him feel all the better on his return, was to learn that the salesmen had disposed of a large number of the used cars that were in stock when he started north.

Santa Claus to Greet Kiddies At Ford Showrooms

Santa Claus is making headquarters at the Jesse E. Smith Co.'s place at 115 West Colorado street for the rest of the week, according to the claims of the local Ford agent.

Every night, up till the Ford Display week closes on Saturday, December 22, the old gentleman with the whiskers and the embonpoint will be hanging around there waiting for the kiddies to drop in and shake hands with him, and tell him what they want in their stockings next Tuesday morning.

To every child who visits him Santa will give one of the little banks with the new penny in it that are being distributed by the Jesse E. Smith Company, as a start on the amassing of the price of one of the new Ford models.

Tuesday Afternoon Club Receives Big Compliment From Art Connoisseur

By KATHERINE V. SINKS
Of The Evening News Staff.

"You have done more for art in Southern California by building such a beautiful clubhouse than some women do in their whole lives," was the compliment paid Tuesday Afternoon club women yesterday by Mrs. Urry Sears of Pasadena, editor, publisher and art connoisseur, who addressed the Fine Arts Section in the morning, and later spoke as a special guest during the club luncheon hour.

"Progress" was the keynote Mrs. Sears sounded for modern art, and during her brief talk she declared that the greatest art in California is landscape work, for she stated that "California is beautiful as God made it, and artistic as man makes it."

City Musical Center
In harmonizing her subject with the holiday season she spoke of the beginnings of art centuries ago, of its spiritual background, which she believes must not be overlooked in the art of the modern day.

Mrs. W. E. Mabey, chairman of music for the Los Angeles District Federation of Women's Clubs and chairman of church music for the National Federation of Music Clubs, was the other honored guest and speaker.

She cited Glendale as one of the active musical centers in California and recalled with pleasure her appearance before the club ten years ago.

An interesting part of her talk was the brief sketch given of the authors of some of the well-known and loved Christmas hymns.

Mrs. Mabey is striving for the development of church music, and to this end she is arranging an interdenominational hymn containing hymns of service, of special interest to club women. She is also actively engaged in establishing hymn contests in Sunday schools, in order that the fine old hymns can be learned and sung by old and young.

Business Session
Later the club women gathered in the auditorium for a short business hour, in charge of Mrs. Daniel Campbell, club president.

Feature announcements made were that the New Year party for the club young people will take place the night of December 31, with Mesdames C. C. Cooper, Lilian Dow and Frank Ayars as hostesses; that the offering taken at the last club meeting for Christmas philanthropic work brought $51 to be used for local relief, for eighteen new pillow slips for Rest Haven, for the Orthopedic hospital, for the county hospital, for the toys for the King's Daughters orphanage; that a check for $200 had been placed in the president's hands from Mrs. A. H. Montgomery, chairman of ways and means.

Next Club Meeting
Because of Christmas and New Year falling on the coming Tuesday the next club meeting will not be held until January 8, when there will be a program by Ruth Hutchinson, soprano. The next club luncheon will be January 15.

attribute of the heart, if they would be acceptable with God.

Arrival in Venice
"We reached Venice about 3:30 p. m., coming the sixty miles from Verona in the train. We expected to be landed outside of town, so when we stopped and were told we were in Venice, we could hardly believe it. After we had walked through the long station, we emerged at the edge of a wide canal.

"We had been advised to come to the Hotel d'Italie, and it is a good thing that we had a definite place in mind, because, differing from any station we had reached, the hotel runners were very persistent and annoying, and if we had shown any hesitancy we would have been overwhelmed.

"Our porter, however, led us directly to our gondola, and we were soon on our way, across the big canal and into a narrow one we went, pushed along at good speed, cutting the corners of the buildings, which extend right up out of the water, passing other boats dexterously in the narrow winding streets; turning from this into, that, these canals looking exactly like the pictures you have seen. Finally we stopped at the steps of our hotel and, ascending three or four of them, we were there.

"It was a new experience. We entered the hotel from the side. It is on a corner and our rooms look out on a little garden fronting on the Grand Canal. The hotel is good, and we find it is the best located in town, within a very short distance of St. Mark's Square, which is the picture place of the city, having three-story arcades on three sides of it and St. Mark's church at the far end.

Describes Venice
"Let me picture you seeing the town as I did. Emerging at the west door of the hotel, you enter an open space, at your left a bridge over the canal through which you arrived. These arched bridges have two short flights of steps to climb and to descend. At your right is a large, old, very Marseilles and a trip across the battlefields of France, the party finally found themselves in England, where the British museum was visited.

"We're such youngsters over here in America, we're only about 150 years old, and yet we doubt the existence of original manuscripts," said Miss Rouzee.

Sees Aged Relics
She told of visiting the Egyptian room, the Roman gallery, the Ephesus room and other parts of the museum. The various relics, hundreds and hundreds of years old, are authentic, according to archeologists, and can be traced back through the centuries.

At the next meeting of the Bible section the third Tuesday in January Miss Rouzee will begin the real Bible study, speaking on "Fulfilled Prophecy Proving the Antiquity of the Scriptures." Mrs. Vernell Rapp has been appointed secretary of the section to succeed Mrs. Hunt.

Miss Winifred Rouzee Gives Instructive Lecture to Club Members

Miss Winifred Rouzee, who is instructing a large company of Tuesday Afternoon Club members and friends in the Bible section with Mrs. C. H. Temple as curator, spoke yesterday to a group meeting in the auditorium at the clubhouse.

It had been announced that the day's lecture would be on the British museum, but instead of dwelling on this subject entirely Miss Rouzee preceded it with an account of more of her travels in Palestine.

She told of leaving Baalbek and traveling to Beirut, between the Lebanon and anti-Lebanon mountains. She described the train ride up the steep Lebanon mountains, where countless villages were to be seen. The club women were interested in her statement that many of the Jews are becoming discouraged and dissatisfied with the Zionist movement and are returning to America.

First Trading Nation
From the heights of the mountains Miss Rouzee and her party descended towards the Mediterranean sea, journeyed along the coast, through Phoenicia, the home of the first trading nation of the world, through Sidon and Tyre to the country around Mt. Carmel and on to Beirut, where a boat was taken and, after a long voyage, stopping at Port Said and fancy, sculptured front church. Passing in front of it and turning to the right you enter a very narrow street, about ten feet wide.

"Here the shops begin. You go two blocks through these narrow streets to the arched St. Mark's Square. These shops carry you back to the manufacturers' building at the world's fairs in Chicago, St. Louis and San Francisco. While there are a few, which sell such staples as books, and there are a few restaurants, the rest all sell fancy goods, souvenirs and gewgaws. The largest single item is beads. Beads, beads, beads, beaded belts and purses, laces, filigree-work, jewelry, postcards (prints and water colors), embroidered silk shawls, embossed leather goods, glassware in endless quantity. "After you have surveyed the shop windows and safely warded off the dealers, who are regular 'body snatchers,' almost pulling you inside, have gone into the old church, and turning to the right have passed the Doge's Palace to the water front, you see the harbor and the colorful domes and buildings on the opposite side.

"You go back past the church and then through the narrow, winding streets, which are not so attractive, and which contain the shops selling food products of all kinds, including plenty of sausages, cheeses and wines.

"Sometimes you take the wrong street and find yourself at a canal with no bridge, or cross a bridge and see that you are entering a hotel or other large building. At every second or third block you enter an open space on which
